

Date: Thursday, 10 May 2018
Time: 07:15 - 08:15 am
Place: Geneva ROOM V+W

The future of allergy management: Targeting the gut with synbiotics

Chair: Prof. Hania Szajewska (Poland)

- Gut microbiota dysbiosis and immune development - Revolutionising nutritional strategies for the prevention and dietary management of allergies
Dr. Mohamad Miqdady (United Arab Emirates)
- Clinical data for the reduction of allergy development in an at risk population
Dr. Anneke Rijnierse (The Netherlands)
- Synbiotics - a promising approach for the dietary management of cow's milk allergy
Dr. Louise Michaelis (United Kingdom)

Date: Friday, 11 May 2018
Time: 07:30 - 08:30 am
Place: Geneva ROOM V+W

Prebiotics and postbiotics: Next generation in infant nutrition bringing immunity through gut

Chair: Prof. Yvan Vandenplas (Belgium)

- The magic of human milk
Dr. Bernd Stahl (The Netherlands)
- Bringing the past into the future: infant formulas with postbiotics
Prof. Olivier Goulet (France)
- The future starts today: combining pre- and postbiotics
Prof. Jan Knol (The Netherlands)

Free breakfast will be served